

State Fun Activity #1:

Start the activity by asking participants to generate as many states as they can on the piece of paper with 50 blank spaces. After participants generate as many as they can, then give each the list of 50 states and ask them to complete filling out their list by using the answer sheet. If this is difficult, tell them to cross out each state on the answer sheet that they have on the list they generated.

Think of as many states as you can and write them below.
